

Tracy Greenfield

VICE PRESIDENT AND HR DIRECTOR

Tracy Greenfield is the Vice President Human Resources Director for Leidos UK. She is responsible for leading a team of 25 HR professionals, providing HR services to support the $500m business which includes 1,200 employees and contractors, located in 14 sites across UK and Europe.

Previously, Tracy led HR for the Lockheed Martin UK, Information Services and Global Solutions (IS&GS) Division. She was responsible for two new acquisitions and the divestment and merger of the Lockheed Martin UK, IS&GS business with Leidos UK and Europe.

Prior to joining Lockheed Martin UK, Tracy worked for Sony Ericsson, headquartered in London for a new joint venture start-up company to set up and lead the new UK Human Resources function. Tracy has also worked for Inchcape UK Head Office, supporting 30 dealerships and 3,000 employees.

Tracy has 20 years HR experience working for blue chip, multi-site, international organisations. Tracy is commercially focused, practical and builds effective working relationships at all levels across the organisation. Tracy is passionate about ensuring HR is a strategic value creator for business success.

Tracy is a Fellow member of the CIPD and holds a Master's Degree in Strategic Human Resources Management from Kingston University. She has won 4 business awards for performing with HR excellence and collaboration.