Corporations that invest significant resources to improve their insider risk programs may often find themselves unprepared to deal with a suspicious incident.

Whether it is gathering data for law enforcement or legal action, the response activities must be thorough but conducted expeditiously and judiciously. – Insider Threat Task Force Whitepaper

If your security team suspects an insider incident has occurred, do they have the resources and expertise to investigate the incident; determine if the nature of the event was malicious, negligent, or inadvertent; and then respond effectively?

RESPONDING TO AN INSIDER THREAT

When there is concern of potential insider activity within your organization, Leidos works with you to resolve the matter successfully. Our team of former law enforcement, counterintelligence, and industry professionals has extensive experience conducting complex investigations, collecting evidence, determining intent, and testifying in legal proceedings.

WHAT DOES THE ENGAGEMENT ENTAIL?

The Investigative Response Service is customized to your organization’s specific needs but typically involves our consultants working with you to develop an investigative plan, gather facts, collect evidence, and guide the investigation’s detailed day-to-day execution related to the insider incident.

INSIDER RISK PROGRAM BENEFITS
