

James Langley

DIRECTOR, INFORMATION SERVICES GROWTH & INNOVATION

As the Director of Information Services, James provides IT and develops software to integrate legacy MOD systems enabling modern inventory, warehousing and transport management systems: updating 30 years of technical debt in 30 months and delivering digital transformation.

Led technology transformation for the largest organisation awarding GCSE and A levels in the UK. Revising the strategic plan for IT transformation and outsourcing a major software development programme to deliver Azure cloud hosted enterprise business services.

Service in the Army for 23 years including operations in multiple theatres, leaving as a Colonel. Highlights included Command of 11th Signal Regiment, redefining a secure IT and telecommunications transformation programme and driving a new Service Level Agreement enabling significant savings.

A Chartered Engineer and Chartered IT Professional with a BEng(Hons) in Electrical and Electronic Engineering and an MA in Defence Studies.