

Kevin Noakes

DIRECTOR, INFORMATION SERVICES

Kevin Noakes is the Information Services Director for the £6.5bn UK Ministry of Defence's Logistics, Commodities and Support Transformation programme.

Kevin joined Leidos in April 2022 following a 32-year career in the Royal Navy as a Weapon Engineer. Conducting a variety of appointments, both operationally deployed at sea and in several support organisations, the pinnacle of his career was as the Commodore leading Maritime Combat Systems whilst also the Combat System Design Authority for surface warships. He was awarded an OBE in the 2020 Queen's Birthday Honours List for devising, leading and delivering a fleet-wide information systems transformation programme.

Living in Wiltshire, outside of work, Kevin enjoys offshore sailing and attempting to improve his ability at golf.
